

NAPCO Security Technologies Announces Newly Appointed School & Campus Security Vice President -Byron Thurmond to Join Company to Bolster Expansion of School Security Business-

AMITYVILLE, N.Y., Aug. 24, 2016 /PRNewswire/ -- NAPCO Security Technologies, Inc. (NSSC - Nasdaq), one of the world's leading solutions providers and manufacturers of high tech electronic intrusion security, IoT connected home, video and fire systems, as well as enterprise-class access control and door locking products, today announces that it has hired Byron Thurmond as VP of School & Campus Security.

Byron Thurmond joins NAPCO from the Houston Independent School District ("HISD") where he has spent the past 30 years. During those years he held multiple roles, most recently as the Senior Manager of Security Services and Telecommunications. He oversaw multi million dollar budgets and installed nine hundred security systems, thirteen thousand cameras in over two hundred eighty schools, three hundred forty access control panels and two thousand card readers. He holds licenses from the Texas Dept. of Safety for Locksmith, Burglar Alarms, Access Control and Security Cameras.

The Houston Independent School District is the 7th largest district in the United States. They are members of the Council of Great City Schools ("CGCS"), which consists of the 28 largest public school districts in the country. Byron and HISD represented best practices security methods and installations, as part of the CGCS and has helped many other member schools improve their security preparedness. Houston issued a total of $80 million in bonds, which Byron directed towards HISD's security efforts.

Richard Soloway, CEO of NAPCO commented, "We are delighted to have Byron join our Company and feel that his background and experience will be of great value in driving our school security business. The vast majority of schools and universities in the United States are largely unprepared for the continued rising trend in school safety incidents such as attacks by armed intruders."

Soloway concluded, "NAPCO markets product solutions which fit every budget, whether it is a K-12 school environment or a large university. Byron's 30 years of experience in this area are a critical element in knowing how to effectively navigate the playing field in order to achieve the results we all desire, which is safe schools for students and faculty members."
