Richard Soloway, CEO of NAPCO commented "We are very excited to debut our latest product, the iSecure cellular alarm system that our R&D team has been developing. Once again NAPCO is an award winner during the ISC West trade show with iSecure receiving the MVP in Home Controls category, which is a great win for the entire NAPCO team. During the ISC West trade show, which is the industry's biggest show with over 30,000 attendees, we interacted with our dealers as they came to our booth to see our new products and the feedback was very positive. iSecure will also add to our rapidly growing RMR sales.
